

Preparation for Adulthood Guidance (HI)

We want young people to make plans for their future that are ambitious and achievable in order that each young person can be the best version of themselves.

To make this happen, careful planning is needed in all areas of their lives to ensure a successful transition to adulthood. The four main areas we focus on are:

Health (including mental health), Community Inclusion, Employment, and Independent Living.

And here are some useful links that offer information, advice, and support for each of the key areas:
